footparitis on the sand and a pile of ceconnut shells showing where he had eaten. All slight long they bunted himleentlessly, growing more sufy as morning approached. They did not seen the thick tops of the point trees
where the youngen them, for Sweerey was agife as a policy.

At that mysterious between ray dawn and actual daylight they came upon bim standing at the water's adge, and actual daylight they came upon bim standing at the water's adge, and there was something so dim and sinduwy about the appetute of a noment so that he turned and saw them.

Bains Bourtshed the empty tea onod for a noment so that be turned and saw them.

Rains dourished the empty tea cantier and so the solution of the solution of the solution of the solution.

"On away," said the voice of Dennis Sweeney. "I'm dead-feed as door
nails, 'Yez have said sol Lave me test in pace. Its limitable, dead men tell so tales!"

"Sharish" mattered Bains hearsely.
"My Golf" groaned Darrow, momentarily unnerved by the unexpectedness of it.

With one accord they turned and burried around to the other side of the Island, where they remained for serving hand, where they remained for serving hours before they remained. Sweener, but disampeared from their sight. Carefully folded on the beach above high water mark was the red fanned shirt of Dennis Sweeney. On the shirt lay two large leaves, and in the middle of each leaf was a little heap of pearls, perhaps a third of what the tea caps the shirt of Dennis Sweeney. On the shirt lay two large leaves, and in the middle of each leaf was a little heap of pearls, perhaps a third of what the tea caps the shirt of Pennis Sweeney. On the shirt lay two large leaves, and in the middle for each leaf was a little heap of pearls, perhaps a third of each leaf was row slowly. Then he turned and polisted to the opening in the coral reaf. There was a trial of black sanden and the black hald of an Australiand. "There was a trial of black sanden and the black hald of an Australiand." "The say devil" gasped Rains at leaf. "The say devil" gasped Rains at leaf. "There's more writing. Peter. Rend it, man!"

Use Your Influence for Concrete Roads

There's no need to point out the advantages of good roads.

The kind of good road, however, is another cost. Concrete, instead of needing repair, actually becomes stronger with age. How You Can Help. You can help your community to come to a wise decision the next time the question of roads comes up. Your influence will be a factor in providing yourself and your neighbors with thoroughly satisfactory highways.

We wish to convince you first—we know that when you are 'backed up' with facts which we will gladly furnish you, you will be able to convince your neighbors.

able to convince your neighbors.

Make it your business to get these facts.

We have a special department which will not only give you the facts, but will also supply valuable assistance to any community desiring to build concrete roads.

It used to be that there was little choice. Macadam for the country and smaller cities was the only material used. Then, twenty years ago concrete was introduced. And for these twenty years concrete has been proving itself;

It is now acknowledged to be one of the best known materials for roads or for street pavements—to be as far superior to ordinary macadam as macadam is superior to sand.

Estimating the Cost.

Estimating the Cost.

It is not the first cost of a road that determines if a real cost; not is it the first six months of service that determines whether it's a good road or a poor one.

The only sare way to find out what a road has cost, is to add to the first cost all that is spen for repairs in fifteen or trenty years.

Now, that's where concrete roads win every argument—their first cost is practically their only cost; they require little or no upkeep

The concert and supper held in the East Battle Lake school was a grand success. The lengthy and well prepared programme was enjoyed by the large number present. Supper was served subsequent to which the light fantasties were induged in away into the wee snalhours. Much credit is due the teacher Miss M. McAllister as well as others who so willingly assisted in making the event successful. Much talent was displayed by the Malmo band.
